

FACTS OF Pianola-Piano SUPREMACY

No. 5 AUTOMATIC TRACKER

All music rolls swell and shrink under varying weather conditions. This has been one great fault with the average player-piano—the playing of music out of tune. In the case of the 88-note rolls, it is absolutely necessary that they track or you get painfully discordant results.

On the PIANOLA-PIANO and automatic tracker insures correct alignment. You don't have to think about it—the adjustment is absolutely AUTOMATIC and POSITIVE.

Come in and try the Pianola-Piano.

FORMAL CHARGES AGAINST SCOTT

Superintendent of State Prisons Must Answer Accusations.

FILED BY GOVERNOR SULZER

He Is Charged With "Nonfeasance and Neglect of Duty."

Albany, N. Y., March 12.—Charges of "nonfeasance and neglect of duty" were referred to-day against Colonel Joseph E. Scott, superintendent of State prisons, by Governor Sulzer. The Governor, in presenting the charges, wrote Colonel Scott that he would be given an opportunity to be heard in his defense to-morrow.

The charges are based largely upon the report submitted by the Governor's committee of inquiry, and in substance are as follows:

That Scott appointed Dr. James V. May as superintendent of the State Prison Asylum instead of Dr. Amos T. Baker, assistant superintendent of the institution, who stood first upon the civil service list; that Scott failed to investigate reports that Dr. May altered the hospital case book containing a record of an examination of Harry K. Thaw made by Dr. May and Dr. John W. Russell; and that even Thaw himself was allowed to alter his record, and that Dr. Russell, then superintendent of the institution, was not suspended nor dismissed.

That Thaw was permitted to receive and have large sums of money in his possession; that Dr. Russell permitted various persons to see Thaw practically without restriction, and to transact business with him without official surveillance over him; that Thaw was permitted to give large sums of money to some of these persons and money to all of them; and that Dr. Russell knew that John Nicholson, a convict, had received $25,000 for the purpose of releasing Thaw from the hospital.

That Colonel Scott neglected to suspend Dr. Russell after he learned of the alleged attempt on the part of Thaw to bribe Dr. Russell, and after Thaw had testified before the commission of inquiry that Dr. Russell had told him "he would not do anything for Thaw without being paid for it, and that $20,000 was not too much to compensate him," and that by accepting Dr. Russell's resignation as superintendent over the telephone, Colonel Scott "intentionally attempted to defeat any demand of the Governor for the dishonorable dismissal of said superintendent of said hospital."

MANY APPEALS ARE DISPOSED OF

Fourteen Decisions Are Handed Down by North Carolina Supreme Court.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Raleigh, N. C., March 12.—The Supreme Court delivered opinions this afternoon in fourteen appeals, as follows:

W. T. Jones vs. Roper Lumber Company, Camden County; plaintiff's appeal dismissed; defendant's appeal error.

In will of J. M. Patrick, Green; no error.

Margaret S. Anderson vs. Atlantic Coast Railway Company, Wilson; new trial.

Olga Bascom vs. James A. Moss, Vance County; no error.

First National Bank, Wilson, vs. Johnson Wilson County; no error.

Edith M. Ryan vs. Hilton Lumber Company, New Hanover; no error.

G. T. Wells vs. Atlantic Coast Line, Pender; no error.

Elmer Harper vs. Atlantic Coast Line, Duplin; no error.

Will Move to Texas.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Harrisonburg, Va., March 12.—R. Frank Wine, whose daughter, Mrs. N. Wine Clark, was murdered by her husband in Baltimore last week, has been placed near Broadway and will move to Texas with his family.

News of Petersburg

Petersburg, Va., March 12.

On Saturday night, March 12, as was published in The Times-Dispatch at the time, a car on the Norfolk and Western Railway was robbed while approaching this city of a quantity of shoes, the boxes being thrown off at a point in Prince George County, very near the city limits. Sunday morning some boys passing along the road found the shoes and reported the fact to Chief of Police Ragland, who at once hurried officers to the spot. The officers recovered the case of shoes, and in searching in the vicinity found where another case of shoes had been opened and the boxes burned. They found also a man who gave his name as Joe Ryan, whom they arrested on the charge of having committed the robbery. He denied the charge, declaring that he was on his way to Petersburg to seek employment. He turned out to be the man for whom the police and railway detectives have been searching for months, as the leader of a gang of railroad robbers, who had been operating in this vicinity. The police had been familiarized with his record by the information given them by two men of the gang, now serving sentences in the jail of this city, following conviction in the Circuit Court of Dinwiddie. They told all about Ryan and his car robberies, so that when the police caught him they found that they had in custody one of the slickest of the railroad thieves.

But it turned out that Ryan is not his real name—just an alias. A railway detective, who returned from Washington brought with him the record of the man in that city, and with it photographs of the supposed Ryan, of which exactly fit the prisoner. Under the name of John N. Tolson he was convicted there two years ago of grand larceny and sentenced to prison. His picture is in the Rogues' Gallery. When confronted with his photographs and record, Ryan, or Tolson, owned up and voluntarily confessed that he was the man who had robbed the Norfolk and Western car. He volunteered to go down to the spot and show where he had concealed the stolen shoes. In company with the chief and other officers, he went down to Prince George and disclosed where he had placed two large canvas bags of shoes, only one of which, however, could be found. The other had been stolen. The bag contained two pairs of shoes, worth $12.50 a pair. The case found on the side of the railroad track contained many more pairs.

Ryan will be held first for trial in Dinwiddie County, where he sometime ago robbed a Seaboard Air Line car of shoes. He will be taken before Justice Watkins for preliminary hearing next Saturday, will confess the charge, and will be sent to the Circuit Court, which meets on Monday, and will doubtless get a quick trial and sentence.

SEVERELY BURNED.

Fireworks Maker Has Had Accident While at Work.

F. E. Wanner, manager of the fireworks in Blandford, was painfully burned about the face and head this afternoon by the sudden flaming of some material he was handling. There was no explosion and no damage to the fireworks property. Mr. Wanner received immediate attention. His injuries are more painful than serious.

General News Notes.

The monthly meeting of the special board of directors of the Central State Hospital was held at the institution to-day. Mainly routine business was considered.

State Deputy James H. Bailey, of the order of Knights of Columbus, left to-day for an official visit to Portsmouth Council.

A satisfactory conference was held yesterday afternoon between the board of governors of the Chamber of Commerce and J. L. Hill, of the Hill Directory Company, of Richmond, relative to a new City Directory. The outcome of the conference will be the publication of a Petersburg directory more complete than any published in previous years.

At the meeting of Hollywood Camp, Woodmen of the World, last night, sixteen new applications for membership were accepted, the same number having been accepted at the previous meeting.

Jennie Smith, known as "Mammy Jen," a faithful old colored servant in the family of J. M. Lamb, on Grove Avenue, died last night. She was seventy-four years of age and had lived with the Lamb family for a great many years.

A meeting of the Matocosa Improvement League will be held Friday night to decide as to the erection of the two new school buildings recently authorized by vote of the people of the district. The district will bond itself for $17,000 to build these schools.

Drewry, superintendent of the Central State Hospital, who has been quite sick for some time, is under treatment in the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore. He is reported as much improved.

The Chesterfield authorities are still searching for the man. It is known that he is wounded severely in the neck. He lost a large quantity of blood and must be in a weakened condition. The woods in the vicinity of Swansboro are being scoured for a trace. Many men have abandoned work and are laboring hard to effect the capture. The reward of $125 is an incentive to hard work, and every effort is being put forth to earn the money.

Died on the Operating Table

This is the story you often hear, and before the discovery of Tripp's Brown Bitters this may have been necessary, but not so now. Read how Mrs. George, of Richmond, was saved from a painful surgical operation:

The National Remedy Co., 603 East Main Street:
Gentlemen,—I wish to tell you how grateful I am for the benefit derived from the use of Tripp's Brown Bitters. I have suffered greatly for months with indigestion, constipation and stomach trouble. Some weeks ago I had a very severe attack. My stomach became swollen and great knots came in my stomach and side. My bowels became clogged, and I was going to the hospital and have an operation performed.

Preparations were being made to take me to the hospital on February 11th; my clothes having already been packed, when Mrs. Sarah Miller, a neighbor, requested Mr. Tripp to stop and see me. He suggested I try a bottle of Tripp's Brown Bitters. I did so. Took the first dose Monday afternoon of the 10th. Tuesday morning I was feeling so much better I did not go to the hospital. I was able to sit up. I paid the doctors and for medicine $28, all the money I had, and the three first doses of Tripp's Brown Bitters did more for me than all the doctors did, and I have been improving every day since I took the first dose.

While under the doctor's treatment my diet was restricted to milk toast. I can now eat anything I want and it does not hurt me. My appetite is improving, and I feel better than I have for months—I have only been taking the Bitters one month. Use this testimonial anyway you see fit. I hope it may be the means of helping many poor suffering women as it has me.

Very gratefully yours,
1231 West Broad Street.
MRS. MATTIE GEORGE.

State of Virginia, City of Richmond—to-wit:
Sworn and subscribed to the foregoing writing by Mrs. Mattie George before me this 5th day of March, 1913.

TO BUY BLOODHOUND

Swansboro Citizens Raise Fund to Purchase Man Chaser.

Citizens of Swansboro have contributed a sum of money for the purchase of a bloodhound. The cash has been turned over to Officer George Jarrell, of Chesterfield County, and he has received instructions to secure the dog as soon as a suitable animal can be found. It will be kept at his home, where it will be available to track down criminals without delay.

A dog that is said to answer the purpose is in the possession of W. E. Wingate, of Chester. Officer Jarrell will go there to-day for the purpose of giving the animal a trial. Recently it was put on the track of a man and, it is stated, trailed him for twelve miles through thickets. This dog was used early Sunday morning in an effort to run down the assailant of L. S. Kocher, the Chesterfield farmer, who was shot by a highwayman Saturday night, on Middlethian Turnpike.

The Chesterfield authorities are still searching for the man. It is known that he is wounded severely in the neck. He lost a large quantity of blood and must be in a weakened condition. The woods in the vicinity of Swansboro are being scoured for a trace. Many men have abandoned work and are laboring hard to effect the capture. The reward of $125 is an incentive to hard work, and every effort is being put forth to earn the money.
